BACKGROUND

● Depression & Anxiety among Housewives

Housewives often experience stress and anxiety from monotonous daily chores, undervaluation by family members, and societal bias portraying them as dependent on their partners.

● What are the potential psychological impacts of being a housewife?

1. LACK OF INTIMACY WITH FAMILY MEMBERS

Among the 250 housewives surveyed, 19% felt a lack of intimacy with their family members.

2. LOW SELF-IDENTITY

The declining perceived value of housework harms housewives' self-esteem, with Dr. M. N. Sultanpur's study showing that 70.6% of women—and 76% under 30—still see it as a woman's duty.

3. INSECURITY AND LONELINESS

The data also reveals that 34.6% of housewives (i.e., 87 individuals) have health issues, with headaches significantly correlated with feelings of loneliness.

Up to 42% of housewives report insecurity and loneliness, often due to strained family relationships, limited social circles, or lack of personal interests.

DESK RESEARCH

● The Neglect of Housewives' Contributions by Family Members

"The importance of housework is often overlooked, as it's seen as low-value and mundane."

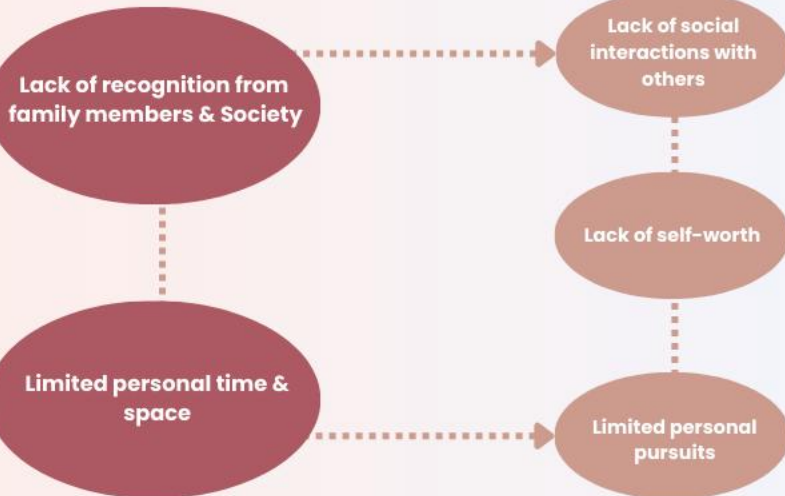

"Housework is often invisible and taken for granted, with tasks like cooking, cleaning, and childcare"

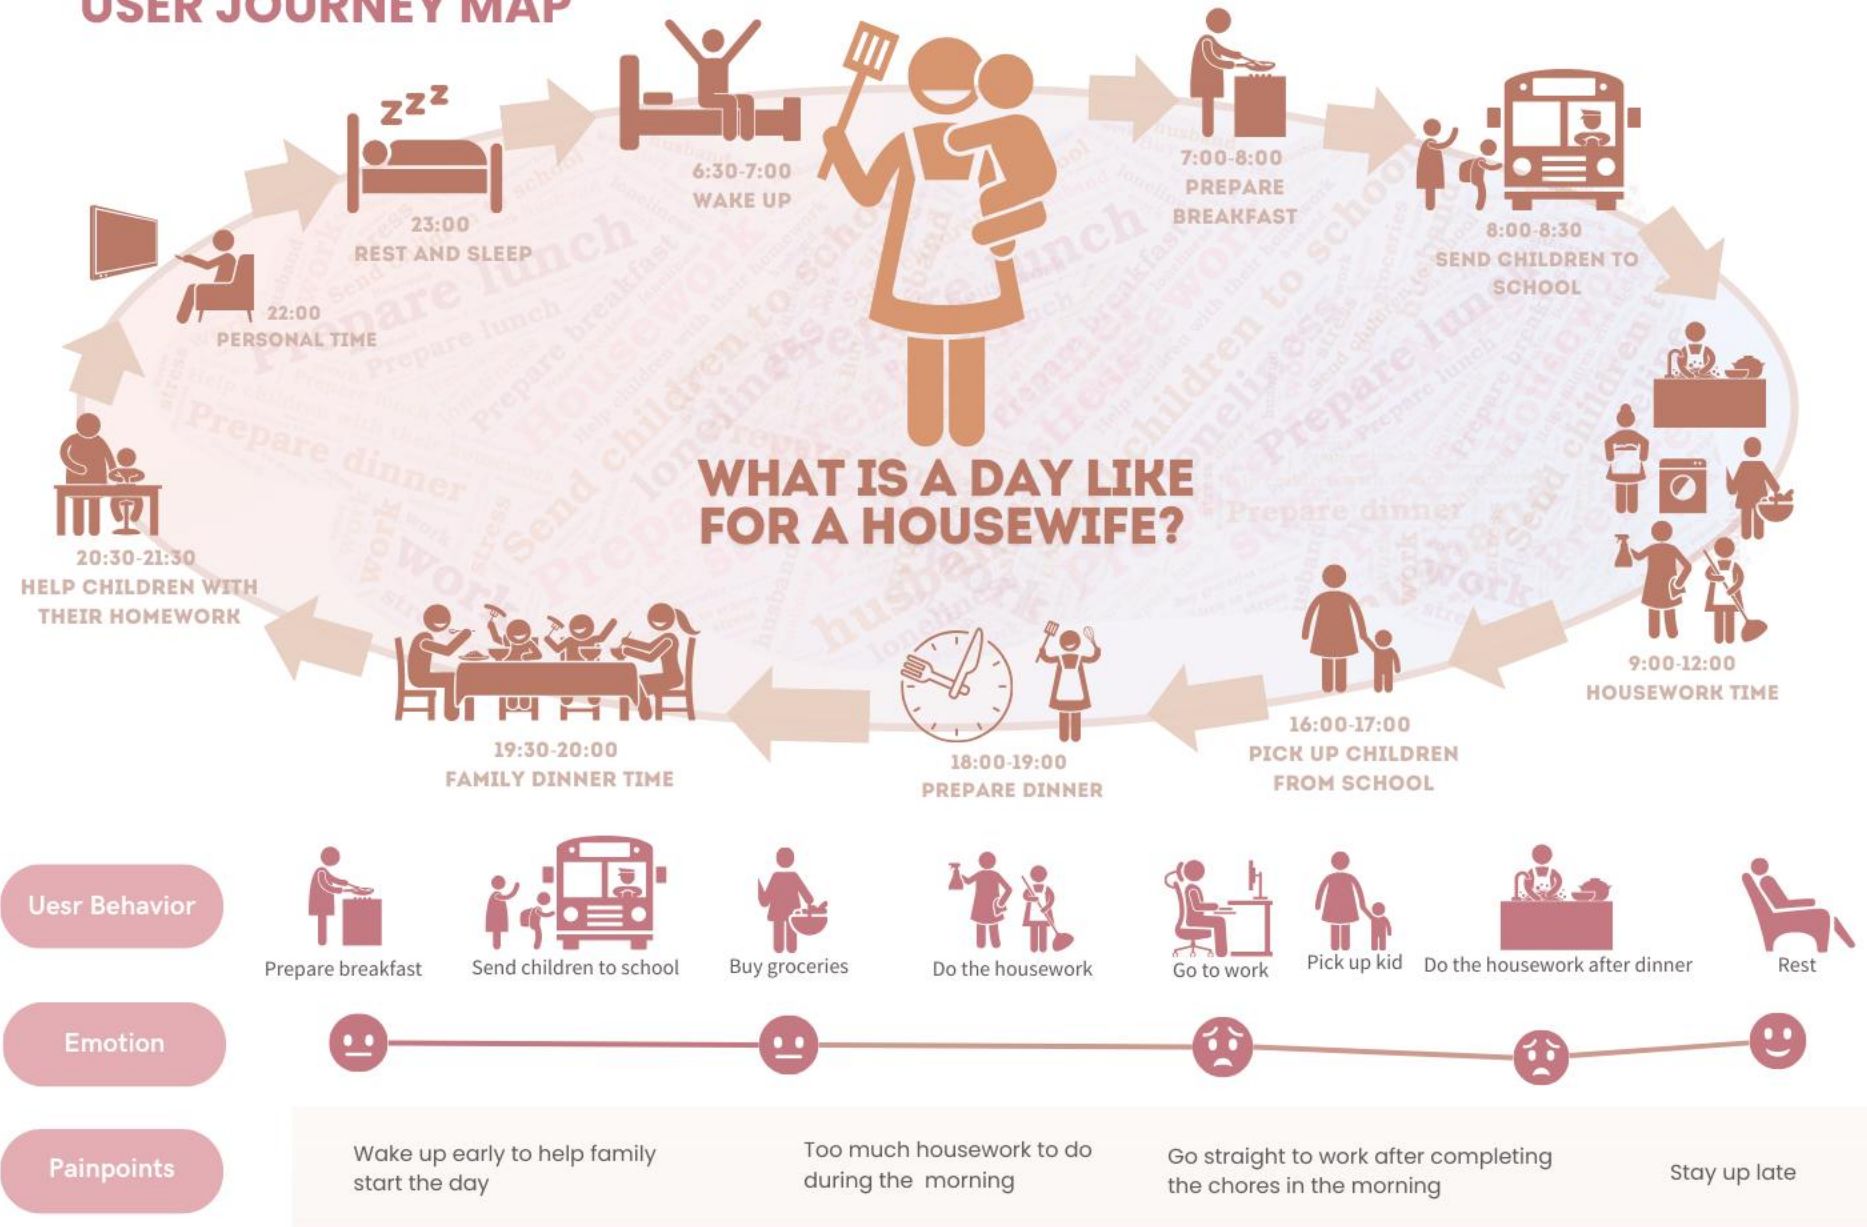

"Housewives are typically expected to take responsibility for household chores to support their families."

THE ROOT CAUSES OF MENTAL ISSUES AMONG HOUSEWIVES

USER JOURNEY MAP

INTERVIEW

In the interviews, the respondents expressed feelings of pressure associated with their identity as a homewife.

Irene

"I hope my hard work could be recognized."

"I want to do the housework effortlessly."

Fei

Amy

"I have endless household chores to do every day, and I'm tired of this state."

"After work, I also have to put my baby to bed and prepare dinner for my husband".

Mrs. Liu

PERSONA

Amy

30/Female/Housewife

- No personal income
- Her husband is the sole breadwinner
- Has two kids

PAINPOINTS

- (1) Her husband always complains about the immaterial matters at the house after she has put massive effort into the chores, which makes her feel frustrated.
- (2) She does not have time for her own personal businesses because of heavy chores, and she feels being treated unfairly by her husband because her husband gets to enjoy playing sports with his friends after work while she is busy with heavy chores.

GOAL

She hopes that her husband can value her daily efforts for the family and respect her by supporting her in daily chores.

MOTIVATION

She would like to spend more time on things she enjoys.

Mrs. Liu

35/Female/Housewife/Office Clerk

- Facing mortgage pressure
- She has her own income source
- Has a daughter
- She does not get along with her husband

PAINPOINTS

She feels helpless since she shoulders multiple responsibilities for being a full time office clerk, a diligent housewife, and a responsible mother after work at home.

GOAL

She hopes that her family member can show more empathy to her and shows more respect to her.

MOTIVATION

She hopes to reach work-life balance and spend more time on self-improvement activities such as taking MBA courses.

IDEATION

● MR Art Therapy

Provide a smart home system covering Art Therapy, to improve the physical and psychological well-being of housewife.

CONCEPT

By gamifying housework, the gold coin game mechanism allows housewives to find enjoyment in doing household chores.

After completing the game, a value report is generated to quantify their efforts, thereby enhancing their self-worth.
